UPHAM-DENIES CATEGORICALLY CHARGES OF COX

Never Before Heard of Alleged Huge Quotas. G. O. P.
Treasurer Says.

NO DISHONEST METHODS

Emphatic Refutation of All Claims of Democratic Nominee of Fund of $15,000,000 Made by Republican
Committee Official Before Probers.

By Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Aug. 31.—Denial under oath that he had ever seen, heard of or ordered made up the list of campaign quotas assigned to various cities, as charged by Governor Cox in the latter's recent speech at Pittsburgh, was made today by Fred W. Upham, treasurer of the Republican National Committee, in testimony before the Senatorial committee investigating campaign expenses. Chairman Kenyon of the committee called attention to the list, saying it totaled more than $5,000,000.

"The first time I ever saw the list was in the newspapers the day after the Cox speech," said Mr. Upham. "Furthermore no one in my office made up such a list with my knowledge or consent." Mr. Upham also denied flatly that the official bulletin issued from his office to field workers engaged in raising the Republican campaign funds were secret or confidential. He pointed out that the only prohibition in that respect referred to publishing lists of contributors in local newspapers.

"Such a list was published in one city," he said, "and several persons objected to seeing their names in print."

On demand of Senator Reed the committee sent Upham back to his office to produce the much discussed "quota sheet," showing the amount each state was asked to raise for both national and state campaign purposes. Senator Reed also instructed the treasurer to produce all records showing the items making up the aggregate sum of the national budget.

The names of all speakers who are to be paid, with the amounts they are to receive.

Contracts for bill board advertising. Contracts for advertising in foreign language newspapers.

Upham was instructed to be back at 2 o'clock with the evidence demanded and Representative S. D. East, chairman of the Republican Congressional campaign committee, was called to the stand.

Two banks in New York, one in Chicago, one in Boston and one in San Francisco, as well as two individuals, have contributed to the $300,000 borrowed by the Republican National Committee, Mr. Upham told Senator Reed.

The loans were made on the authority of the party executive committee and do not constitute a legal obligation on which the committee could sue, the witness said.

Before leaving the stand, Mr. Upham, questioned by Senator Kenyon, entered a categorical denial to Governor Cox's charges that "special interests" were financing the Republican campaign.

"Are persons favoring a protective tariff being especially solicited?" Senator Kenyon asked.

"Not that I know of."

"Are banking interests being asked to contribute as a class?"

"No."

"Is any campaign being made among those who seek to control the federal reserve bank?"

"No."

"Is any campaign to raise money being conducted among people who want to put down labor disputes with the boycotts?"

"No."

"Have you inquired the price of boycotts?" Senator Reed interjected.

"Yes, they are very cheap."

CHICAGO, Aug. 31.—Fred W. Upham, Republican national treasurer, testifying before the Senate committee investigating campaign expenditures, today said the Republican National Committee received $1,817,265.32 in contributions from both national and state campaigns between June 15 and August 26. A list read into the record by Mr. Upham showed he said, the amount collected in each state for state and national campaigns, with state totals. In West Virginia it showed that the amount collected was $18,900.72 for the national committee and $1,166.78 for the state committee, making total of $20,067.50.

While in Pennsylvania the national committee received $68,768 and the state committee $350, giving the Keystone state a total of $69,118.

Of the total sum collected between the dates mentioned, Mr. Upham said $613,013.54 was for the national committee and $399,241.78 for state purposes. With his report the Republican treasurer presented to the committee the names of 12,589 contributors who have donated to the funds and fixed their average contribution as $2.11. Mr. Upham also presented a budget showing the committee had $2,000,000 in need $3,079,037.20.

Mr. Upham said, however, he failed to raise enough money to care for their expenses and the difference has been forwarded to them by the national committee.

NO EVIDENCE OF CORRUPTION IN THE REPUBLICAN FUND

Says Chairman of Democratic National Committee in Campaign of 1916.

USED THE SAME METHODS

But Hopes "Were Not Realized" as to the Amount Raised, Although a Total of $2,500,000 Was Expended in Electing Wilson for Second Term.

CHICAGO, Aug. 31.—When Homer S. Cummings, former Democratic national chairman, was before the Senatorial investigating committee yesterday, he gave the Republicans a clean bill of health as to the methods they employed in raising a campaign fund by popular subscription. He declared that no evidence has been produced indicating dishonest methods, and pointing out that the same system was used by the Democrats when he was the party's chief during the last Wilson campaign, but "hopes were not realized" as to the amount raised.

Mr. Cummings reviewed the Democratic campaign of 1916, which cost $2,500,000 giving information as to the cost of conducting the speakers' bureaus, advertising and clerical forces. He told of "rumors of vast expenditures by organizations not directly connected with the party that assumed to help" on their own account.

Senator Reed, Democrat, cross-examined Mr. Cummings, during which the latter was asked: "Do you know of any effort being made to buy the presidency to corrupt the electorate?"

Mr. Cummings: "Only such impression as you would gather from the collection and disbursement of manifestly excessive sums."

Senator Reed: "Do you know of any manifestly excessive sums that have been collected?"

Mr. Cummings: "I don't know of any."

Senator Reed then called Mr. Cummings' attention to the testimony of W. H. Hays earlier in the day that the Republicans had planned to raise $3,079,037.20 for the national committee's campaign budget, and that possibly another $1,000,000 might be necessary in the state campaigns.

"Now, Mr. Cummings," said Senator Reed, "would you say that the raising of $3,000,000 by any national committee would indicate any corrupt purposes?"

Mr. Cummings: "Certainly not."

Senator Reed: "Your committee—our committee—the Democratic committee spent $2,500,000, I believe you said, in the last campaign?"

Mr. Cummings: "About $2,300,000, I think."

Senator Reed: "That was by the National Committee, state committees raised other funds to be used in their own states, did they not?"

Mr. Cummings: "Oh, absolutely."

Senator Reed: "Then you seem to agree with Mr. Hays that his fund does not indicate any corruption?"

Mr. Cummings, after some discussion said he could find no evidence of corruption in the Republican plan for raising campaign funds, adding that his own organization was attempting to raise funds by the same method used by the Republicans. He also complained that the Republicans "ran wild" in collecting "all the money they could gather."

Senator Edge commented that neither party has a monopoly on that, has it?"

Mr. Cummings replied: "No, but the Republicans are more successful at it."

Senator Edge: "Then your response has not been as great as you anticipated, despite your large organization which employed 300 persons and occupied three whole floors of a Washington office building?"

Mr. Cummings: "No, our hopes were not realized."

PATRICK M'KEVITT, OLDEST OF FRICK VETERANS, IS DEAD

Former Morgan Valley Employee of Coke Co. Succumbs to Pneumonia at Home; Wife in Hospital.

Patrick Henry McKevitt, 75 years old, retired employee of the H. C. Frick Coke company, died at his home in Chestnut street, South Side, at 3:30 o'clock last night from a heartening of the arteries, complicated by an attack of pneumonia. Although in much pain he was conscious until the last and was able to recognize members of the family who were with him.

Mr. McKevitt had been ailing for some time and recently went to the Mercy hospital, Pittsburgh, for treatment. He returned home Saturday evening and on Sunday was confined to his bed with pneumonia. Mr. McKevitt, who is now at the Mercy hospital where he is undergoing treatment, will be brought home this evening if her condition will permit the trip.

Mr. McKevitt was a Frick veteran and was the oldest of the pensioners born in Duquesne, County of Louisa, Ireland, he came to this country about 40 years ago. For 35 years he was a Frick employee at Morgan, and knew the late H. C. Frick when he worked in the store there. He was married to Mary Jane Hearty of Dawson in 1882. After going on the pension list he resided in this city where he has since resided.

In addition to his widow he is survived by four daughters and two sons, all at home. They are Mary, Margaret, Katharine and Alice and Thomas and Charles.

WOMEN IN BOROUGHES AND TOWNSHIP HAVE TO OCT. 2 TO PAY TAX

They Must, However, Be Sure They Are Assessed Tomorrow's Last Day for That Purpose.

That tax collectors in the boroughs and townships are declining to accept payment of taxes by women, on the ground that they have not yet received the certified lists of voters, and are therefore not authorized to accept payment, should not disturb any prospective woman voter.

The assessors cannot make their return to the county commissioners until after tomorrow, the last of the day upon which those officials are to be at the polling places to enroll any voters who were overlooked during the canvass of the elect on districts.

After the lists of assessed voters have been transmitted in the county commissioners' office a certified copy will be forwarded to the tax collectors of the several boroughs and townships, receipt of which will be the tax collector's authority for acceptance of tax payments.

Inasmuch as voters in boroughs and townships have until October 2 to pay their taxes, and the return of voters' list to the tax collectors will require but a few days, ample time will be provided for the payment of taxes within the 30 days preceding election.

By making sure tomorrow that they have been assessed, then paying their taxes on or before October 2, women in the boroughs and townships will have complied with all the requirements necessary to cast their first vote.

Freight Cars Collide.
Two coal cars and a car containing a load of pit posts collided Sunday morning on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad near Fayette. The car containing the pit posts telescoped the first coal car and overturned the second car of coal. The car could scarcely be seen for the amount of coal piled on top of it. A wrecking crew removed the cars and cleared the tracks.

Legion Teams to Play.

Bishop Post, Connellsville, will meet tomorrow evening at 5:30 o'clock at Trotter, the use of the field having been donated by Manager C. L. Barker. ## MOTOR MINES COAL MEN WILL CONTEST COMMISSION ORDER Situation Considered at Meeting of Tri-County Executive Committee.

NEXT STEP UNDETERMINED

But There Is Feeling That Producers Should Leave No Stone Unturned to Save Themselves from Financial Ruin; Pittsburghers to Go to Capital.

Motor mine coal operators of the Connellsville region will contest the recent order of the Interstate Commerce Commission limiting them to open top cars after all other operators have been supplied. The situation as considered at a meeting of the executive committee of the Tri-County Motor Mines association Monday evening in Uniontown but no definite conclusion as to what steps shall be taken was reached. It was evident that a formidable fight will shortly be launched to determine whether the motor mines producers shall be made the objects of what they charge is rank discrimination.

Joseph R. Campbell of Scottsdale, who was engaged a few days ago to solicit new members for the association and collect information to be used when their case comes up for a hearing, reported that he had secured 17 new members in the Scottsdale and Mount Pleasant vicinity.

Motor mine and track leaders all over the state are organizing and filing answers to the recent order. Of the 7,500 mines in the United States almost half are affected by the recent order.

Motor mine leaders say they see nothing but their ultimate ruin if the order is allowed to stand. They declare it is a question of life and death and they are going to fight it to the bitter end. Every operator who operates a similar mine is asked to communicate with the secretary, M. Lee Thine, of Point Marion, who will furnish promptly all information as to the objects of the association. They call attention to the fact that the fight is not only for the temporary relief which they are seeking but for a permanent order which will safeguard their property at all times.

The association has already filed an answer with the Public Service Commission of Pennsylvania following an order of the commission issued about a month ago. They are now preparing to start the fight with the Interstate Commerce Commission. Before this fight is instituted every motor or wagon mine operator is urged by the association committee to identify himself with the association for mutual benefit.

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 31.—A committee representing the wagon mine operators of the Pittsburgh district is planning to go to Washington this week to file a protest against the recent order of the Interstate Commerce Commission, which prohibits allotment of open top cars to other than tipple mines or mines with private adit and loading devices. Many of the wagon mines of which there are about 350 in the Pittsburgh district, will be compelled to suspend operations unless the order is cancelled or modified, it is declared.

Several of the wagon mine operators complained about the order as individual operators. They characterized it as "unfair, unreasonable and discriminatory." The bigger operators, they say, are responsible for it. Railroad officials in the Pittsburgh district are in somewhat of a quandary as to just what the order means. Some believe it cuts off cars to all truck mines, even though many of them have platforms and dump the coal into the cars. Others believe a mine with a platform or other loading device is classed as a tipple mine and is entitled to its share of cars.

On a second demand for the money, which was refused, Bridgeport shot Wright. The wounded man is in a critical condition. His assailant was arrested by the state police and is in the county jail.

GOVERNORS GUESTS TODAY OF SENATOR HARDING AT MARION

Conservation of Natural Resources and Reclamation of Land Urged Upon State Executives.

MARION, O., Aug. 31.—Republican governors had their turn today on Senator Harding's front porch yesterday, journeying to Marion to pay their respects to the Republican nominee and to hear an address by him on reclamation and conservation of the nation's natural resources. The need of an after war reconstruction policy to rehabilitate industry and open new fields of enterprise, particularly in the West was stressed by Senator Harding in the address, prepared for the occasion. He drew a parallel between present conditions and those following the Civil War and touch on the possibility of giving former service men homes on reclaimed lands.

Fourteen states were represented in the list of visitors which include not only governors but several former governors and gubernatorial nominees. Their reception was through for shortly before noon and after the senator's speech the party were guests at a G. A. R. picnic at Marion park. Among the state chief executives who accepted invitations to attend were two of Senator Harding's opponents for the presidential nomination, Governor Sprout of Pennsylvania and Governor Louder of Illinois.

Logan was arrested for alleged interference with an officer by Patrolman D. H. Turner Saturday at the police station. He was required to leave a forfeit of $50 for a hearing Sunday morning. He was refused a hearing by the acting mayor, he charged, though he had 10 witnesses to support his claim that he was innocent of any offense and $50 additional was added to the amount that had been required as forfeit.

Concert on South Side.

Just as the concert on the South Side by the Connellsville Military band was about to begin last night a wind storm came up followed by a driving rain, which temporarily interfered for a third time. The concert was to be held in front of the home of Funeral Director Charles G. Mitchell on Green street. Mr. Mitchell, feeling that the South Side residents were about to have their hopes for music dashed again, offered the use of his front porch to Director John L. Gaster. From this point the band played the concert and though the rain stopped a little later the musicians decided to keep their seats. A fairly large crowd withstood the wet weather and came out for the concert which was well received, especially the vocal numbers by Lester Crawford, soloist for the band.

SWEET SANDWICHES TO TAKE THE PLACE OF CAKE.

A sweet sandwich is a delicacy which may be made in an emergency when small cakes are not at hand, and they are always appropriate to serve with lemonade, tea, cocoa or coffee.

Cinnamon Sandwiches.—Use white or Boston brown bread, substituted for three tablespoons of granulated sugar with one teaspoonful of cinnamon. Spread a slice with the cinnamon and sugar mixture and cover with a slice well buttered with cream butter. These go well with cocoa.

Date and Orange Sandwiches.—Blend one-half cupful of finely-chopped dates with two tablespoons of orange juice; use on buttered whole wheat bread. These are nice with lemonade.

Coconut Sandwiches.—Take one cupful of freshly grated coconut, one-quarter cupful of walnuts, chopped, one teaspoonful rosewater, one tablespoonful of powdered sugar; mix well; add three tablespoons of thick cream and spread on buttered white bread.

Honey and Pecan Sandwiches.—Mix four tablespoons of honey with two tablespoons of chopped pecans. Split hot baking powder biscuits and fill with the mixture. The biscuits should be baked about an inch thick.

Strawberry Sandwiches.—Take half a cupful of fresh strawberries, cut crosswise into slices. Cream one tablespoonful of butter; add three tablespoons of powdered sugar and spread on slices of buttered bread. Lay the sliced strawberries in a single layer and cover with a slice of buttered bread.

Become a Private Secretary

The position of Private Secretary is different. The young man or woman in this position commands the respect of the office assistants and outside of business is on a social plane equal to that of the superior executives.

The work is pleasant, beneficial and extremely varied and interesting. In addition to rapid financial gain the Private Secretary has chances for developing in the handling of business and social affairs that are not found in other professions.

The Private Secretary associates with the brightest minds of the organization, becomes acquainted with the most influential people and learns the innermost working of important affairs.

To fit you for this position we will give you special training in our Private Secretary Course. This course is distinctly our own and is duplicated in no other institution.

We will give you the education necessary to talk convincingly and intelligently with people. We will develop your personality which the Private Secretary must have. We will train you in the business subjects necessary in the office and in the duties of the Secretary.

This course offers the High School or College student an unusual chance to get into a really high class position.

It also offers young men and women now employed an opportunity to rise above their present positions.

There is a greater demand for our graduates than we can fill, as we accept only those who in refinement, age and personality will conform to our high standards and who in our judgment are adapted to a position of this kind.

This course and those listed below may be taken in our regular classes or at home by correspondence.

This one told her to not dare to put her name on the roll. This rebuff did not bother Miss Smith, as she had previous experience in enrolling people. She enumerated township No. 4 in the last census.

GREAT DEMAND IS REPORTED IN STATE FOR FREE TREES

Approximately 200 Municipalities Take Advantage of Offer of Forestry Department.

Special to The Courier.
HARRISBURG, Aug. 31.—Approximately 200 municipalities in this state are taking advantage of the Pennsylvania Department of Forestry's offer to supply free shade trees to towns and cities. Letters from many of them received by John W. Keller, chief of the bureau of silviculture, who is in charge of the department's shade tree work, indicate that they have already named their shade tree commissions. Other boroughs are preparing to organize commissions, and still other cities are asking for further information. The 200 inquiries received at the department show about one-fifth of the state's municipalities contemplate extensive shade tree planting this fall and next spring.

The widespread interest in Forestry Department's proposition has created an unexpected demand for the free shade trees offered. One city alone asked for all the trees available. Another city asked for 500 shade trees and scores of smaller requests have been filed. Keller said he has virtually promised all the shade trees available this year to early applicants, so that many towns will be disappointed.

In view of the revived interest in shade tree planting by the cities and towns, the Department of Forestry plans to increase its activities immediately to grow the trees needed. The four nurseries cover about 30 acres, and they will be expanded to 40 acres probably. Possibly a special nursery will be established in the central part of the state to grow shade trees exclusively.

HOMESTEAD GRAYS ARE BOOKED FOR SATURDAY; IS SECOND APPEARANCE

Independents Bring First Class Pittsburgh Organization Back for Game.

WHITNEY ON LABOR DAY

What was considered the premier attraction of the Connelville baseball season—the Homestead Grays—will again be presented to Coker fans on Saturday. The second game with this team has been arranged by the independents; following many requests made by followers of the sport who desired to again see the two teams in action.

WHITNEY IS BOOKED FOR LABOR DAY HERE

The Independents have arranged a game for Labor Day which will attract fans from all over the region. Whitney has signed up for that date and a game in which both organizations will be after victory by any means will be seen.

Recently Connelville lost a close game to Whitney. The management of each team says the full strength of the respective teams was not in the line-up on that day. Each will not be the case this time. When the two organizations clash on Monday the cream of both will be in the batting order.

The Independents have not yet announced who will be on the mound Monday. It is likely Herrod will pitch against the Grays on Saturday and will be unavailable for Monday's contest.

The Florence baseball team ended its season Saturday with the game here. The boys intend to put in the winter months by organizing a band and a first aid team.

Randolph, who pitched for Florence throughout the season, goes to Hocking college now to prepare for the football season. He is also a star in that game.

Though we have not seen them ourselves, it is said Pittsburgh scouts have been looking over the independent material in recent games. Rumor has it that "Phib" Finney was asked with favor but did not have a sufficiently strong record.

It will take another big playing crowd Saturday to put the independent on their feet. Considerable money will be spent this week in repairing the fence and "putting" the grounds in shape.

The next two baseball attractions here should be well patronized. The Homestead Grays Saturday and the Whitney team on Monday are two of the best independent organizations which could be brought here.

Hokey Enters for Race. Deputy Sheriff of Connelville has entered in the speedway races at Uniontown on Labor Day.

Trotter Beats Everson. The Trotter baseball team trounced Everson 4-0 in a game at the Trotter grounds last evening.

OTTO KNABE IS AGGRESSIVE

New Leader of Kansas City Blues Was Great Ball Player With Philadelphia.

Otto Knabe, who was appointed manager of the Kansas City American league team to succeed Alex McCarthy, is a scrappy, as was proved when he managed the Baltimore Federals. He was a great ball player with the Phillies for years, always credited with possessing more than ordinary baseball brains. He has announced that he will make several changes in his line-up as soon as he can get men to take the places of the weak cogs in the machine. Just what these changes will be he does not care to state, but very likely he will retain such players as Good, Brubaker, Brief, McCarthy, Lott and Miller and improve where it has been apparent all season improvement was necessary.

FATHER SAYS HANK GOWDY IS SHY

Hank Gowdy's father is a baseball "bug." He attends all the games at the Columbus ball park, where Hank first got his baseball inspiration. Hank used to sweep out the stands at 6 o'clock every morning for a six-bit piece, hang up the score and a lot of things.

Gowdy says he saw Hank play the world series which was featured by his work, but he didn't let a boy know he was there until the championship was won.

"Hank never wants any of us to watch him play. He positively won't tell us a thing about baseball or the war. A better boy never lived."

"His mother is still his sweetheart and as big a boy as he is, never thinks nothing of kissing her at a ball park, in a street car or at a theater or any place. He's our baby boy to us both, still."

Diamond Yarns

The ball players' name for Babe Ruth is "the big baboon."

The Boston officials pick the White Sox as the best team in the league.

The Indianapolis club has returned Outfielder Herb Hunter to the Boston Red Sox.

A recent jumper from the Southern to the Delta outlaws is Pitcher Hugh Connaway of the Memphis Clarks.

The Chicago team has a new manager, Catcher Drap Hayes having succeeded Ned Puttgerow in charge.

The Boston Red Sox people plan to keep Schang in center field and hunt another catcher to help young Walters out.

Boston's ball clubs aren't sending up any skeletons this year, but most everyone in the Bay city has a baseball beat.

From now on to the end of the season Babe Ruth may be expected to break the world's home-run record almost every day.

The Sioux City club has secured Pitcher Frank Wells from the Cedar Rapids Three-L league club, giving Outfielder Reiche in exchange.

The Bald club recently sold Outfielder Felix Jacob to Chicago. He is regarded as a good player, but he had a run of ill luck with Bald.

First Baseman Catcher Keltis, released by Evansville, was taken on by Terre Haute to fill in while Catcher Tom Casey was out with a broken finger.

Doc Johnston is the safety first baseman of the American league. When Ruth comes to bat, Doc takes a position in right field and fears for the worst.

St. Louis, represented 12 years in the National league baseball race, has managed to finish in the first division five times. Third place is the best they finished.

Sisler covers not only first base, he also covers the space 10 feet above it and the territory 2 feet under it, to say nothing of the 10 feet on all sides of the pillow.

Webster—Man's Man

By PETER B. KYNE

Author of
"Cappy Ricketts," "The Valley of the Giants," etc.

(Copyright by Peter B. Kyne)

"The finest thing about a terrible fight, friend Cappy, is that if it is a worth-while battle, the spoils of victory are exceedingly sweet. You are now about to enjoy one fourth of the said spoils—a large jolt of aguardiente! You must have it to steady your nerves. Go to the nearest cantina and buy one drink; then come back with the chuck. By that time I shall have breakfasted and you and I will then go shopping. At noon you shall have another drink; at four o'clock another; and just before retiring you shall have the fourth and last for this day. Remember, Cappy, forty-one jolt—no more—and then back here with the exact change."

As Don Juan scurried for salvation, Webster turned to Dolores. "Hill will be new, but that will not be his fault but mine. I've set him too great a task in his present condition. Nevertheless, to use a colloquial expression I have the Cappy goat—and I'm going to keep it."

Webster went immediately to his room, called for pen and paper, and proceeded at once to do that which he had never done before—to write his last will and testament. In a few brief paragraphs he made a holographic will and split his bank-roll equally between the two human beings he cared for most—Billy Geary and Dolores Ruy. "Billy is a gambler like me," he ruminated, "so I'll play safe. The girl is a conservative, and after Billy's war is gone, he'd be boiled in oil before he'd prejudice hers."

Having made his will Webster made a copy of it. The copy he placed in an envelope marked "For Jack. Not to be opened until after my death." This envelope he then enclosed in a larger one and mailed to Billy at Calle de Concordia No. 10.

Having made his few simple preparations for death, Mr Webster next burrowed in his trunk, brought forth his big army-type automatic pistol and secured it in a holster under his arm, for he deemed it unwise and provocative of curiosity to appear in immaculate ducks that bulged at the right hip. Next he filled two spare clips with cartridges and slipped them into his pocket, thus completing his few simple preparations for life.

He glanced out the window at the sea. There would still be an hour of daylight; so he descended to the lobby, called a carriage and took a short drive.

Returning to the hotel he dismissed the carriage, climbed the three short steps to the entrance and was passing through the revolving portal, when from his rear some one gave the door a violent shove, with the result that the turnstile partition behind him collided with his back with sufficient force to throw him against the partition in front. Instantly the door ceased to pivot, with Webster locked neatly in the triangular space between the two sections of the revolving door and the jamb.

He turned and beheld in the second door behind him an officer of the Sobranestan army. "This individual, observing he was under Webster's scrutiny, scowled and peremptorily motioned to Webster to proceed—which the latter did, with such violence that the door, continuing to revolve, caught up with the Sobranestan and subjected him to the same indignity to which he had subjected Webster.

Once free of the door, Webster vaulted just inside the lobby for the Sobranestan to conclude his precipitate entrance. When he did Webster looked him over with mild curiosity and bowed with great condescension. "Did any gentleman ever tell the honor that he is an ill-mannered monkey?" he queried coolly in excellent Spanish. "If not, I desire to give the honor that information and to tell him that his size alone prevents me from giving him a nice little spanking."

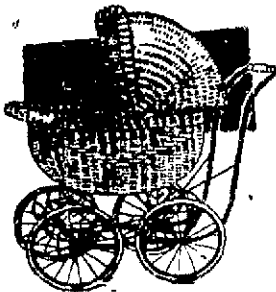

For the first time Webster's olive features paled with anger as he realized with emotion and seemed undecided what to do—seeing which Webster grinned at him tantalizingly and decided him. No Latin-American can, with the exaggerated ego of his race, can bear even a suspicion of ridicule. The officer walked forward toward Webster and swung his arm toward the latter's face in an effort to land a slap that was "instant."

Webster merely threw back his head and avoided the blow; his long left arm shot out and hear down the Sobranestan's guard, then Webster's right hand closed around the officer's collar. "Come to me, thou insolent little one," he crooned, and jerked his assistant toward him, catching him up in his arms, carried him, kicking and screaming with futile rage, out into the patio and tossed him in the fountain.

Now, then, spitfire, that will cool your hot head I trust," he admonished his unhappy victim, and returned to the hotel at the desk he paused. "Who was that person I just bathed?" he inquired of the excited clerk.

"Ah, señor, you shall not long be kept in ignorance that functionary informed him. That is the terrible Captain Benavides."

"Do you know, I had a notion it was not?" Webster replied ruminatively. "Well, I suppose I'm in for a duel now," he added to himself as he climbed the stairs to his room. "I think that will be most interesting."

John Stuart Webster changed into dry clothing and descended to the dining-room. Miss Ruy was already seated at her table and noticed him to the seat opposite her, and as he sat down with a contented little sigh, she gazed at him with a newer and more alert interest.

"I hear you've been having adventures again," she challenged. "The boys is all over the hotel. I heard it from the head waiter."

"Coffee and pistos for two at day night," he answered cheerily. "By the way, I have made my will just to be on the safe side. Will you be good enough to take charge of it until after the funeral? You can turn it over to Billy, then."

She fell readily into the bantering spirit with which he treated this serious subject. Indeed it was quite impossible to do otherwise for John Stuart Webster's personality radiated such a feeling of security of absolute, unbounded confidence in the future and destiny for what or of good fortune or ill the future might entail, that Dolores found it impossible not to assimilate his mood.

At seven-thirty, after a delightful dinner the memory of which Mr Webster was certain would linger under his foretop long after every other memory had departed, he escorted her to the open carriage he had ordered and for two hours they circled the Mallon with the idea of Buenaventura, listening to the music of the band, and, during the brief intermissions, to the sound of the waves lapping the beach at the foot of the broad driveway.

"This," said John Stuart Webster, as he said goodnight to Dolores in the lobby, "is the end of a perfect day. It wasn't, for at that precise moment a servant handed him a card, and indicated a young man seated in an adjacent lounging chair at the same time volunteering the information that the visitor had been awaiting Señor Webster's return for the past hour.

Webster glanced at the card and strode over to the young man. "I am Mr. Webster, sir," he announced cheerily in Spanish. "And you are Lieutenant Arredondo?"

The visitor rose, bowed low and indicated he was that gentleman. "I have called Mr. Webster," he stated in most excellent English, "in the interest of my friend and comrade Captain Benavides."

At last! The fresh little monster I ducked in the fountain this evening! Well, what does the little squirt want now? Another ducking?

DOUBLY PROVEN

Connellsville Dealers Can No Longer Ignore the Evidence.

This Connellsville citizen testified for a goodly number of undoubted facts. The fact are not confined to such common sense as the evidence conclusive. It is a convincing proof of merit. Mrs. William Stillwagon, 218 Fairview avenue says:

"I have benefited from Beecham's Pills for a number of years. I had just an ordinary case of constipation and was in poor shape and I don't know of any other medicine I would be so glad to recommend." (Sent me by a March 16, 1914.)

On August 11, 1919, Mrs. Stillwagon added: "I still use Doan's Kidney Pills when I have need of a kidney medicine. They are a fine remedy and I can place them just as highly as I did in 1914."

Too Much Appetite may be as dangerous as too little

When the skin is sallow or yellow, the eyes dull, the head aches or sleep broken and unrefreshing, the back aches, or there is a pain under the right shoulder blade—it is an indication that the body is being poisoned by poorly digested and imperfectly eliminated food-waste. It is a wise thing to take
